opportunity

Join us for an interactive financial literacy training designed to help participants build a strong foundation in personal money management. During this workshop, attendees will learn practical strategies for budgeting, saving, managing debt, improving credit, and setting financial goals.

Participants who successfully complete the training and meet with a financial coach on two separate occasions to work on their personal budget will have the opportunity to qualify for a $700 grant. Take this important step toward achieving greater financial stability and gaining the tools needed to make informed financial decisions. Space is limited, so register today!
